Core Anthroposophy: Teaching Essays of Ernst Katz

Ernst Katz was one of the foremost teachers of Anthroposophy in America during the second half of the twentieth century. He was professor of physics at the University of Michigan and, quite likely, the only professor in the country who taught courses in both natural science and “spiritual” science at the university level. He also led anthroposophic study groups, which attracted people from all around southern Michigan and, ultimately, enriched the spiritual lives of people from coast to coast.

In the early 1960s, Dr. Katz began writing his “teaching essays,” his response to the many questions through the years intended to help students comprehend the profound wisdom contained in the major works of Anthroposophy. Dr. Katz’s strength was his ability to explain complex esoteric ideas in terms of clear analogies, taking examples from everyday life. He became a master at writing explanatory guides for some of the most important spiritual-scientific concepts.

Core Anthroposophy makes available Dr. Katz’s carefully constructed teaching essays. It offers present and future students of Anthroposophy with a valuable and accessible resource for better understanding the esoteric teachings of Rudolf Steiner.

Topics include:

- The Mission of Rudolf Steiner
- Essays on Rudolf Steiner’s Philosophy of Spiritual Activity
- About Your Relation to Rudolf Steiner
- Meditation, an Introduction
- Meditation According to Rudolf Steiner
- Cosmic Secrets in Rudolf Steiner’s Health Verses
- Thoughts about the Foundation Stone
- Contemplations about the Holy Spirit
- Rudolf Steiner’s Concept of Four Types of Etheric Forces
